App reviewSo: 4.0/5 based on 6945 reviews(*) asked2 ★ FEEDBACK: SukS integrated video player is bad! The menu controls never go away so it always hinders video lectures. Also I have to keep clicking on my screen to keep it awake. It's like the player doesn't know a video is playing. When opening a pdf, there's always a bar at the top that says the file name. It's congested, because generally people have to read pdf in landscape mode and that bar takes up the amount of annoying space. Why not have the bar at the top go away if you move up a little.1 ★ This app is absolutely terrible and it is one of the many reasons why I am currently failing my classes. You can only see a handful of previously specified projects, so if you want to see what you need to catch up you are unlucky. The online site is disgusting as well, everything is needlessly scattered about some kind of confusing and it's hard to keep track of all of it. It must be a crime to make something this bad. You should be ashamed of yourself.5 ★ absolutely love this app! It works perfectly with my university! Not everything pops up right away but it helps instead of logging into my browser every time.2 ★ it's very hard to navigate. Features like looking at your class and exercises are very hidden. It's nowhere near as easy to use as the computer browser version.1 ★ The functions that this app offers are half baked compared to competitors like Canvas. I can't even see my class in the app? Seriously? Why do universities even bother using brightspace when better alternatives are out there? I can also just uninstall the app and only use the desktop version.1 ★ All sorts for my class notes to appear but the notes themselves do not show and the application only claims that there is nothing in the folders. I tried to restart the application but failed and the same result. All I've ever used this app for now is shortcuts to the browser version on the main page.5 ★ I find this app a bit difficult to navigate through. Logging in through Ontario learning is a much better experience this time around.©2 ★ It's a nice app but I'm very annoyed every time it crashes. I did not touch the screen because I took notes then it just crashed.2 ★ I really want the application does not need to open a browser to look at things like notifications and so on. I would also like it if text notifications send the entire message rather than just part of the message.1 ★ Install, delete, reinstall and still not have my class loaded initially. After the third installation, I can finally make it load my classes. Now that both the web version and the phone app are used, I can now say that this is not a user-friendly program in any sense. It is set similar to APEX high school credit recovery, but is so crammed with features that users end up going in unnecessary circles, while in Sakai users already have a clear understanding of where the tools or menus are and how to get to distribute perspectives. Less certainly when it comes to features where time management is important for working professionals who are using the platform and it does nothing for students in an effective sense.5 ★ Help me navigate though my class easily, giving me a problem and reminding me what to do. A great tool to keep me on track.4 ★ experience with Pulse is amazing. It gives me smartphone access on the go if I can't access my desktop. I can answer everything from app.1 ★ After using Zoom to teach online, this is a disappointment. Don't be fooled by all the hype. Teachers are not only difficult to post, but also very difficult to reach students. Bongo needs big changes to mimic zoom.5 ★ impressive. I like this app because I see whenever my professor scores my things automatically and it reminds me of upcoming exercises. I would recommend it to anyone in the School3 ★ Great app but have problems with notifications as it shows error notifications when I click on recent notifications. Moreover, the application lags behind and does not show work to make the list properly. Right.
